DESCRIPTIONS :

Combat Source Kill Max Roach Killing Gel is a unique gel product that comes in a syringe-type applicator allowing for placement in hard to reach areas. This gel can be applied behind appliances and in cracks and crevices, targeting large or small roaches where they hide or enter your home. Application of the roach killing gel can be hidden from view, but it can be placed in many locations, making it easier for more roaches to find and eat the bait. Combat Roach Killing Gel helps you win the battle of roach control by killing insects quickly and thoroughly at the source. It is effective up to 6 months, providing you with long-term control and protecting your home from future infestations. Effective up to six months. 30-gram applicator
